

Week Three

Activities for Children and Young People (5-16 years)

There are some that can be done without adult supervision and some that you might like to do as a family.

Education 	Travel Journal: Make a memento from your previous travels around with your family. Imagine favourite beaches, special hiking areas, places of interest. You can draw, use photos, etc. It can also be a planning tool for future holidays.	https://writeshop.com/travel-journal-ideas/ https://kidstravelbooks.com/kids-travel-journal-printable-download/
Fun 	Train the Dog	No, seriously, this could be a good one. If the family dog doesn't know how to sit or stay, start there. If your pet is ready to move onto more complex tricks, try focusing on training an hour a day. You can move onto down and roll-over.  https://dogtime.com/dog-health/dog-behavior/18515-10-tricks-kids-can-teach-dogs
Connections 	Zoom meeting to help connect juniors or school mates together
